MOSELEY'S TUBULAR WROUGHT IRON

ARCH BRIDGES AND ROOFS. PHESE Bridges and Roofs have now been fully tested In this vicinity, and it is universally conceded the hey cannot be excelled. The Boots are wholly of Wrought Iron, or mixture of Wood and Iron; Shouling always from.
The Bridges are wholly Wrought Iron except the floor, which is wood, like the floors of ordinary Bridges. We are prepared to make these structures in any quantities, at prices about as follows:
Railroad Bridges, 50 feet span, 8,000 lbs, $17 50 per ommon Read or Turnpike, 50 feet span, 2,600 lbs.

Sommon Read or Turpine, so does span, species, 35 75 per foot lineal.

Roots, all iron, 50 feet width of building, $25 per 100 qua e feet, part wood and part from from $12 to $20 per square.

Increase of span of bridges or width of buildings Increase of span of bridges or width of buildings makes an increase of price, but the increase in price in no more than the increase of wooden structures.

We can furnish iron of every size to work into Bridges and Roofs, and Railroads or other companies onlying the right to use them and the iron of us, can make their own structures one third less than the above prices. Our structures weigh only from 14 to 1-10 that of wood; difference in freight in a long distance buys our wors. In a few days we will have at our Factory, 497 West Third street, in this city, four different specimens of our foof, where the public can inspect them to their satisfaction. We beg them to give us a call, as all our work is warranted, and we ask no pay on ordinary jobs until the work is done and approved, payments being secured on contracting. Gentlemen:—Having made a particular examination of Goodrich's "distory of All Nations," I am tree to say that I know of no work groat or small, that contains half the amount of useful and entertaining matter to: family reading. It is written in Mr. Goodrich's best-tyle. It is althrary, a historical library of Itself; and its worth, according to the usual cost of good reading, two or three times the unner you ask for it. It is no wonder that you have to keep a power press running constantly to supply the orders for these volumes; for the public have only to know their value to make them a universal want with all classes.

um, goutlemen, most respectfully yours, B. F TEFFT.

Extract from a Letter from Ex-President Fillmore. Extract from a Latter from Ex-President Filmore.

I think it eminently deserving of the public patronage. It is necessarily brief; but it brings under review, with its admirable illustrations, the principal subjects worthy of attention in all nations, and to the young especially, it is invaluable.

I have been familitar with Mr. Goodrich's writings for many years, and have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with him; and think him admirably qualified for imparting fustruction in a way that brings it within the reach of the common mind.

He also observed two fellows of suspicious appearance, loitering about the place, and discovered them to be father and son, men of bad character, who got a living nobody knew how. He had warned them away, and returned to see if anything were amiss in the house.

On being informed of my visitor and her rate, he expressed a wish to see her, and at once resimilar circumstances, what a multitude of thoughts passed through my mind in few a minutes. dental ornaments. Sometimes I made large towns the center of my operations, and remained in it for months, visiting the lesser ones in the neighborhood on stated days. It was in one of our large manufacturing towns in the west of England that I met with the adventure I am going to give you.

I had been uncommonly successful, and had made a long stay in the place on that accountinded, had spent some months there when it happened. I had excellent lodgings, and occupied three apartments, and the first floor bedroom, all facing the street. I always worked in the last named apartments, and laid the necessary tools and materials on a little bench near the window. Here I generally took my station, and spent the time from six to seven in the ovening till midnight, as I was less liable in interruption.

We apartments were all furnished with gasburners, and before winter set in, I added a gas stove to my bedroom, that my working there might cause no needless trouble or expense to my landlady. One evening being very busy, I sat later than usual, and when at length my task was done I drew my chair close to the stove, and sat half an hour reading before extinguishing my

But I was careful to ex amine the fastenings of my door, and this duty done, I extinguished the fire and light and got in-

I fell asleep almost instantly and had a somewhat ludicrous dream. I fancied myself a keep-er in the Zoological Gardens, which I had visited few days before, and that while handing some food to my especial charges (the bears), I over the grizzly brutes, when the shock awoke me.

Again I dozed off, but only to get among the bears once more. I thought a tremendous speci-men, a perfect Orsa Major, had just been purchased, and that to me was entrusted the task of taming the monster.

But, alas! he cluded it with the dexterity of an accomplished fencer, and I, losing my balance, toppled head first to the ground. The brute sprang upon me. He tugged, and so did I, with might and main. I was getting the worst of it, when suddenly recollecting that any sort of at tack is lawful, and that one may be permitted to waive ceremony with a bear, I seized the creature's earbetween my teeth, and bit the piece lock and holt it. completely out. In sa many more the pistols were in my hand and the gas lighted. The intruder did not venture to appear, and the delay gave me courage. I boldly commanded that individual to advance and take the chance of a bullet. Something immediately began to move, and I soop say the and take the chance of a bullet. Something im mediately began to move, and I soon saw the cause of my alarm. What was it, think you? You cannot guess. I will tell you. It was a woman! I see you are all beginning to laugh; and I suppose you think there is some long story in the case; and that a damsel, beautiful as a Bouri, or a heroine—which is all the same—whom I had wooed only to herray, had concealed then, with singular quickness and dexterity, rau

After all the scene was droll enough. There stood I shivering in my night habiliments, pistol in hand, ready to interrogate my visitor. She looked carving knives in return; but not seeming in the least shocked at my scanty garments, though evidently desirous of turning her basek both on them and on the wearer. On looking I thought her features seemed familiar and recoldected she had lived as servant in the house, but the search of something this pocket as it in search of something the properties of the properti lected she had lived as servant in the house, but vehicle for Christmas cheer. she remembered nothing more till aroused by a loud fit of laughter. This seemed plausible enough, and but for the sequel would have passed off very well. As we were about to dismiss her with a caution not to repeat her visit, the door bell rang and we found a policeman waiting for admittance. He stated that passing a short time.

The Vice President on the Stump.

During the early part of the spring, while the discussion as to the policy of receiving the Territory of Kansas into the Union under the Lecompton Constitution was at its heighth, the en tire country was curious to ascertain the views of the Vice President upon the question which was then one of intensest interest. Meetings of the people were held in many of the States, and to these meetings the Vice President, the Cabinet, and the most distinguished members of Congress were invited to come. At that time it was of the utmost importance that Mr. Buchanan should receive the open support of all those who were friendly to his cause, and piteous appeals ascend ed to heaven and were poured into the ears of men, "to strengthen the hands of the President," to "pity the sorrows of a poor old man." In order to do this, in order to give the President all the assistance in their power, the different mem bers of the Cabinet frequently wrote letters to such meetings as they were requested to attend expressing their hearty concurrence and endorse ment of his policy. During such excitement the South was certainly excusable in feeling consid erable anxiety to know the views of the Vice President, whom she had elected avowedly for the purpose of checking whatever anti southern feelings might exhibit themselves in Mr. Buchanan's executive conduct. And in order to satisfy this just and reasonable desire on the part of many Southern men and Northern men every mean was resorted to to induce this popular favorite and child of rare good fortune to declare his opinions, but all in vain! The friends of Doughas declared that the Vice President agreed with the Little Giant of the West, and Mr. Breckin ridge uttered not one word to undeceive them but with that caution, for which he is so remark ble, wisely and prudently kept his peace. At last the South became suspicious and questions were seriously asked as to why it was that the chosen champion of Southern Democracy failed to announce his sentiments upon a question in which his party was so vitally interested? Why was it that while the storm was raging, and the angry waters lashed into fury by the winds dash ed mountain high, that this boasted Ajax availed himself of the obscurity into which Buchanan's surly ill-will had cast him, and refused to utter one word to cheer on the united hosts of the Southern Democracy in their contest against the majority opposed to them-in which contest they were finally defeated, although they succeeded in covering their retreat by a mean and most despicable stratagem? which many of them now re oudiate? The only answer which the friends o Mr. Breckinridge ever deigned to make to those interrogatories was, that the Vice President's ele ented position rendered it inappropriate that he should take any part in the discussion which was waging, and with this the curious were obliged to

were Mr. Breckinridge's views, and made no effort to elicit an exposition from him. As to what his honest convictions were his good sense left no room for doubt, but a slight knowledge of his character was sufficient to satisfy us that any at tempt to induce Mr. Breckinridge to involve him self in the heated quarrel between the Northern and Southern wings of his party would be fruit less. We have never entertained a doubt but that Mr. Breckinridge thought and still thinks that the amendment offered by Mr. Crittenden was the only honorable and fair mode of adjusting the Kansas embraglio; but we never for a John Haly for such a cause, and yet at the same moment believed that Mr. Breckinridge would so far throw aside his overweening prudence as to array himself in opposition to his party in the South by a candid expression of his opinions Mr. Breckinridge does not appreciate the philos ophy of those men who in stern advocacy of truth and right bravely meet a voluntary martyrdom; he rather deems such acts a species of insanity. He has no idea of sacrificing his pros pects to his honesty. He would not "rather be right than President," but in order to gain that minent position he is willing to countenance fraud and wrong, and to trample upon those very popular rights of which he has heretofore been se zealous an advocate. One of his many ardent admirers has already termed him the "heir apparent to the White House," and there can be no doubt that his vaulting ambition aspires to wield the sceptre and to have within his girt foreign missions and the endless list of offices at American party because of the alleged treatment the disposal of a President. But in order to gain to Haly, and at the same time to excuse of that much coveted position it was necessary to be exceedingly politic, and John C. Breckinridge is brutal treatment of Jerry Purcell, even though he in all respects an astute politician. He had be "a poor worthless drunken Irishman." There sense enough to see that the Southern Democraey, who elected Mr. Buchanan, in order to make Kansas a slave State, would never support any one who desired to give the free-soil majority of the people of Kansas a fair chance the "Dimocratic" ticket, while Jerry has the to make it a free State; and he had sense boldness and the independence to vote the Amerenough to know that the Northern Democracy who shouted for "Buck, Breck, and free Kan sas" would never unite on a man who had endeavored to force Kansas into the Union under a Save State Constitution, to which three fourths of her people were opposed. In short he knew that as a Lecomptonite he would lose the North, and as an Anti-Lecomptonite he would lose the South; and without the support of those opposing clements, his golden visions of the White House would prove to be but the dim creations of a morning dream. His policy then was to espouse meither the one nor the other, but to lay low, keep quiet, and finally be taken up as a compro mise by the two inimical factions, who will readily snatch at any plausible excuse to unite upon the spoils, even though they divide upon princi ple afterwards. Such being his hopes, such his aspirations, and such the glittering prize for to take its due course. Howard was arrested, which his heart so deeply yearned, Mr. Breckinzidge let the Democracy fight the battle as they est could, and "the dignity of his official posi tion," the excuse for his non committalism.

But we took no part in the discussion as to what

kopes are not to be realized, that some one else be was committed to jail to await his final trial will be called in to administer upon the effects of in the Circuit Court. the Nacional Democracy-who it will be time alone can determine. But in order to obtain even this latter | will be announced to-morrow. office, it was necessary for Mr. Breckinridge to discard his non-committal policy and come out sition, should refuse to avouch his sentiments on a band while the machine was in motionsuturated from beginning to end, with the very happen when proper care is taken. spirit of demagoguism. His speeches have been full of sophistry, of misrepresention, and of artful and disgraceful appeals to the sectional feelings of his audiences. There has been nothing and likely to recover. bold, or statesmanlike, or manly, about them .-They have been the efforts of a Demagogue in support of a bad and rotten cause. They have been the miserable pleadings of one, who, having gotten a taste of the spoils, is determined to hold on to them, if he can, without regard to the means to be employed to that end. They have been ut. terly unworthy of Mr. Breckinridge, and a cryhad made such speeches, the whole county would | following: have regarded them as natural and appropriate Vice President of the United States they are too

But we are not astonished that Mr. Breckin since he stumped the Northern States in advoca cy of his own claims for the Vice Presidency, and why should he not meddle in a canvass for a purely ministerial office, in order to have his par ty perfectly organized for the fight in 1859, when he will be run for the Senate of the United States. His present course, although very disgraceful is but in keeping with his ancecedents.

III an article, published a few days since, we commented upon some of the villainous frauds practiced, and attempted to be practiced, all authorized by a Black Republican Congress by the Locofocos of this county in order to carry the recent election. And in response to the "howl" of indignation which has been raised on account of the treatment received by John Haly on the day of the election, we charged that two Irishmen named Grinnon and Jerry Pur cell had been whipped by Locofocos, because they voted the American ticket. The former of these men was whipped at the election just passed, and the latter about a year since. The charge in reference to Grinnon has not, and cannot be denied. As to Purcell, the charge is admitted .-The leaders of the Locofoco party in this county now admit that "about a year ago some of Jerry's countrymen dressed him down with a shillalah for being such a traitor to his country and to himself" as to vote with the American party. "Consistency, thou art a jewel." Suppose it were admitted, for argument's sake, and we admit it only for that purpose, that John Haly was beaten from the polls because he was a Dem ocrat. Then let it be further admitted, for argument's sake, that all this was an outrage upon the rights of Halv, and in violation of the laws of the land. Will any Locofoco tell us, upon what principle, it is a grievious wrong to whip time it is perfectly proper for Locofocos to beat cratic House, a Democratic Senate, and a Demo-Grinnon, and "dress" Jerry Purcell "with a shil- dent of the Cincinnati Gazette furnishes a statelalah," because they in the exercise of ther ment "taken in the exact words and figures of for the American ticket? Has the "contractor" of the Democratic clerk of the House of Rep for the American ticket? Has the "contractor" resentatives," showing the appropriations made at the last session of Congress. This statement "poor" Grinnon and "poor" Pursell have? Do is as follows: the laws of the land make any such distinction between the rights of a "contractor" and a "poor" man

We have said time and again, and we repeat it now, that all attempts to interfere with voters at the polls should be discouraged and discountenanced by every good citizen. If Haly was beaten from the polls because he intended to vote in a particular way, we un hesitatingly condemn such conduct. But we solemnly protest against the effort made to excite the indignation of the people against the fail to condemn the beating of GRINNON and the are other "poor, worthless, drunken Irishmen" about Frankfort besides Jerry Purcell. But the mimense difference between them and Jerry Pur cell, in the eyes of Locofocos is, that they vote ican ticket.

A KIDNAPPER, COUNTERFEITER AND FELON AR RESTED .- We learn from the Bowlingreen Gazette that on Monday last, that community was thrown into the most intense excitement by the confir mation of a report which had been previously circulated, that a white man named George Howard, alias Jack Harrison, had abducted three slaves from their owners. The negroes were placed in a skiff, and had proceeded some dis tance down Green river before they and Howard were arrested. Some few of the citizens of Bowlinggreen advocated the application of lynch law to the scoundrel, but thanks to the efforts of several prominent individuals, the ex citement was quelled, and the law will be allowed and was adjudged guilty of five charges; three of abducting slaves; one of having in his possession counterfeiting tools, dies, &c.; and another of felony; and held to bail in the sum of $10,000-But Mr. Breckinridge has discovered that such $2,000 in each case. Being unable to give bail,

From the Covington Journal. Government Expenditures --- Extrava-gance of the Democratic Party-The Official Figures vs. Idle Declamation.

The leaders of the Democracy are making desperate efforts to cover up or palliate the enor mous expenditures under Buchanan's Adminis ing shame to the Vice President of the United tration. The Cincinnati Enquirer's report of States. If Andy Johnson or Beverly L. Clarke Mr. Stevenson's speech at Florence, Kv., has the

"He then alluded to Mr. Crittenden's misrep effusions to come from such characters. But resentations concerning the national expendi from John C. Breckinridge, a gentlemen of birth tures, which he insisted were $100,000,000 a year education, and unusually fine ability, from the In fact there were but sixty millions, and that was all authorized by a Black Republican Con gress. It was paying their debts and deficiencies which made it several millions of dollars more than usual. It is only once in a long time the ridge should stump the State of Kentucky pre-paratory for the next canvass, in which his name will bear a prominent part; for it is not long the Union could only be preserved by adhering to since he stumped the Northern States in advoca the Democratic party. He then, in an eloquent the Democratic party. He then, in an eloquent manner, introduced Vice President John C. Breckinridge to the meeting, who was received with a round of applause."

Now let us see where the "misrepresentations' have been. Mr. Crittenden did not say the na tional expenditures were $100,000,000. He said, they were this year $85,000,000 and that if they continued to increase in the same ratio they had done they would next year amount to $100,600,

What was the amount of the expenditures for the last fiscal year? Mr. Stevenson says: "In fact, there were but sixty millions, and that was This statement, if true, would be creditable to the Black Republicans of the last Congress, for it is a fact that the expenditures for the ing year, (when all the branches of the govern ent were Democratic) amounted to more than

At best it is a miserable get off to charge the amount of the expenditures to the opposition-which had control of the House only. There was a Democratic Senate and a Democratic President, who suffered this Black Republican stravagance to go on unchecked!

Every intelligent man in the country is aware that appropriations by Congress are made upo suggestions coming through the Executive, and that the amount asked for is oftener cut down than increased. Any person who has paid any attention to the proceedings of the last Congress will remember that Mr. L. D. Campbell, Chair-man of the Committee on Ways and Means, urged the passage of the appropriation bills, without amendment, upon the ground that the mounts were demanded by the Executive. The mere declaimer does not care much abou assertions, and then boldly defies contradiction. That he is sometimes wide of the mark is no very strange. The actual apropriations for 1857, made in accordance with the demands of the Executive, amounted to $72,112,298-and wheth er extravagant or not, the Executive is answer

The indefinite appropriations, cluding claims and the like, are variously esti mated, and in a statement prompted by the Treasury Department, at $3,500,000. I assume only $2,000,000. The interest on the public debt is provided for in the bills authorizing the loans or notes, and hence no annual appropria-tion is made. This item belengs to the permanent class. With this explanation the result may be summed up as follows:

Total of specie appropriations as shown in Mis. Doc., No. 137, page 76, - $ 81,824,825 40 Indefinite appropriations for claims, allowances, &c., estimated, mated, nterest on public debts which existed prior to acts Dec. 23d

e Treasurer's report, Dec 8th. 1857. 16,586,588 35

Here we have as the expenditures of two years under Mr. Buchanan's administration the enormous sum of $175, 969.020!

Mr. Stevenson says, "it is only once in a long time the opposition get the ascendancy, and then they are very extravagant." This is cool. Dur ing the four years of Gen. Taylor and Mr. Fillmore-not so far back but that some living men may recollect the facts-the aggregate expendi tures, exclusive of the public debt, amounted to $165,664,049, averaging per annum, $41,480,000. Now, as we have just seen, the annual expenditures under an economial Democratic administration are averaging EIGHTY SEVEN MIL-LION, NINE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY THOUSAD DOLLARS, or more than double the expenditures of Mr. Fillmore's time Uunder Democratic rule in six years the na tional expenditures have more than doubled! What has been done with the money? done with a portion of it.
